Weddings are such a joyous time in a persons life. It is the celebration of love between two people, and the bringing together of families. But it can also be stressful, and one thing your skin dislikes is stress. Trust me, I've been there! One of the pleasures I have at Sanctum Medical Aesthetics is helping the Bride-to-Be and many other family members feel confident about their appearance on the big day.

Future Brides come into us with individual problems but they all have the same focus - wanting to look gorgeous, glowing and natural on the day of their wedding. I love to help a bride clear up acne prone skin, or help reduce fine lines before their big day. We see so many people pre-wedding that we created a special Hollywood Facial that is perfect to make your skin luminous on the day.

It's not only brides that want a transformation. Grooms-to-be, Mothers and Fathers of the bride, and members of bridal party all have their skin plans done and treatments booked in ready for the wedding day. We pride ourselves on a natural appearance, glowing skin and being the best version of yourself. If that is something you think you want on your wedding day, then we'd be honoured to be part of your wedding prep!

Wedding Glow

Skincare plans and treatments for the Bride & Groom-to-be, Mother & Father of the Bride and the entire Bridal Party.

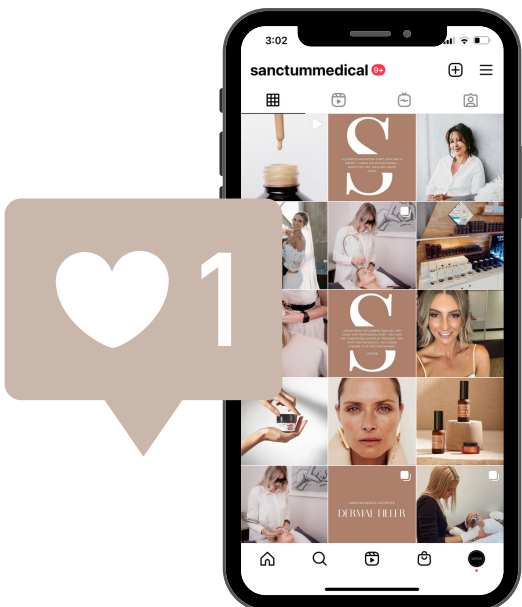

Our Registered Nurse Georga recently married the love of her life Calen at the beautiful Spring Bay Mill on the East Coast of Tasmania. Georga has shared some of her secrets to glowing skin on her wedding day.

"To ensure my skin was in the best condition it possibly could be on my wedding day I followed a well designed Sanctum Medical Skincare Plan that addressed my skincare goals, concerns and was tailored to my skin type. The year leading up to my wedding day I started thinking about the in-clinic treatments I needed to ensure optimum skin health and collagen stimulation. Regular Hollywood Facials were also a priority, and I had a treatment every 4-8 weeks. I also followed a strict at home Skincare Plan specifically tailored to my skin type and my areas of concern. Other treatments I received at Sanctum were skin needling to reduce the appearance of pores and Toxin treatment to soften fine lines and relax muscle movement. These two treatments allowed my make up to sit seamlessly on my skin on my wedding day. As well as high quality make up used by a professional make-up artist. The week leading up to my big day I also had regular Healites (LED) to promote skin rejuvenation."
